Provider Profile

Information provided by the provider describing their agency:

Mission Statement

The Frank Olean Center, Inc. is a non-profit organization representing and providing services and supports to persons with developmental disabilities and their families throughout Southern Rhode Island and Southeastern Connecticut.

Our services include; community employment, case management, school to work transition, recreation, in home supports and a twenty-four hour residential home. A team approach is used to develop a program supporting the physical, emotional and social needs of each person served.

History

The Frank Olean Center, Inc. is a non-profit community-based organization. Since its inception in 1966 the organization has grown from a parent-based advocacy group to an accredited organization providing comprehensive services and supports to persons with developmental disabilities and their families. The Frank Olean Center, Inc. serves the Southern Rhode Island and Southeastern Connecticut areas. Through the array of services, supports and programs The Frank Olean Center, Inc. enables individuals to grow, develop and maximize their potential.

The organization's headquarters have occupied various sites including its beginning in a church basement, the Grange in Hope Valley, and the Post House in Hopkinton. To allow for further expansion the decision was made to build a new facility. In 1977 the organization moved to its present location on Airport Road. In 1987 a 5,000 square foot addition was completed.

Frank Olean, one of the founders of the center and its first president, devoted over 35 years of his life as a voice, conscience and advocate for people with developmental disabilities. He was a significant force within the state of Rhode Island and an inspiration for everyone.

Throughout its existence, the Frank Olean Center, Inc. has recognized the dignity and importance of each individual, enabling people of all ages to achieve their highest potential.
